

Historical Network Research Conference 2018

Masaryk University, Brno, the Czech Republic,
11th-13th September 2018
<http://religionistika.phil.muni.cz/hnr2018/>

Venue: Faculty of Arts, Arna Nováka 1, Building B2, the lecturing hall B2.13

Monday, 10th September 2018

19:00- unofficial social event, venue: TBA (at own expense)

Tuesday, 11th September 2018

8:00-9:00 Registration and Refreshment

9:00-9:30 Opening of the Conference

9:30-10:30 Keynote Lecture I

Johannes Preiser-Kapeller, “Lost in Math? Big Data, Close Reading and the Application of Network Theory on the Human Past”

10:30-11:00 Coffeebreak

10:30-12:00 Session I (regular papers)

11:00-11:30

Philipp Strobl, “Social Networks of Austrian Refugees from the Anschluss in Australia: An Analysis of Meaning Structures”

11:30-12:00

Kimmo Elo, “Using Large Photograph Corpora to Explore Regional and Interregional Social Networks of East German Dissident Movement”

12:00-12:30

Galina Zelenina, “Dynamic Identity and Weak Ties in Late Soviet Jewish National Movement”

12:30-14:00 Lunch Break (lunch at own expense)

14:00-16:00 Session II (regular papers)

13:30-14:00

Yann Ryan, “A Networked Approach to Early Modern News Flow”

14:00-14:30

Olga Zaslavskaya, “Family Network and Early Globalization: Transnational Space-Making in the Middle East and Beyond”

14:30-15:00

Naim Bro, “Pipiolos and Balmacedistas: Explaining Allegiance in the Chilean Civil War of 1891”

15:00-15:30

Vladimir Uspenskiy, “Unseen Divide: Using SNA for Studying the Court Parties in Early Modern Muscovy”

16:00-16:30 Coffee Break

16:30-17:50 Session III (short papers)

16:30-16:50

Daniel Knox, “Deconstructing the Networks of Ostrogothic Italy: An Approach to Ennodius of Pavia”

16:50-17:10

Evina Steinova, “Isidore’s Etymologiae as a Window into Carolingian Intellectual Networks”

17:10-17:30

Petra Mutlová, “Networks of Ideas in the Czech Reformation: A Project-Proposal Presentation”

17:30-17:50

Jan Škvrňák & Michal Škvrňák, “Divide et impera: Social Network Analysis of Bohemian Civil War 1248-1249 and Its Aftermath”

Wednesday, 12th September 2018

9:00-10:00 Session IV (regular papers)

9:00-9:30

Ilan Talmud, “Structural and Cognitive Embeddedness of Venture Capital Funds 1995-2002: Inequality vs. Interdependence”

9:30-10:00

Martin Stark & Matthias Bixler, “Modeling the Dynamics of a Rural Credit Market in the 19th Century”

10:00-10:30 Coffee Break

10:30-12:00 Session V (regular papers)

10:30-11:00

David Zbírál & Tomáš Hampejs, “Women, Men, and Medieval Heresy: Tackling an Old Question through Network Analysis”

11:00-11:30

Delfi I. Nieto-Isabel, “Strangers in a Strange Land: Waldensian Networks in 14th-century Languedoc”

11:30-12:00

Zdenko Vozár, “Metadata for the Middle Ages: A Network Analysis of Manuscriptorium.com”

12:00-13:30 Lunch Break (lunch at own expense)

13:30-14:30 Keynote Lecture II

Jana Diesner, “Bias Detection and Theory Validation in Social Network Analysis”

14:30-15:30 Session VI (regular papers)

14:30-15:00

Marek Vlach, “Antonine Plague: Case Study of Epidemiological Modeling and Impact Evaluation”

15:00-15:30

Aleš Chalupa et al., “Generative Historiography of Ancient Religions: How to Model the Spread of Religions in the Ancient Mediterranean”

15:30-16:00 Coffee Break

16:00-17:20 Session VII (short papers)

16:00-16:20

Johanna Gautier, “Socio-History of Global Financial (De)Regulations (1971-1987)”

16:20-16:40

Daniel Schubert, “Economic Aspects of Dark Networks”

16:40-17:00

Egor Lykov, “The Network of Austrian and Russian Rail Enterprises 1850–1914”

17:00-17:20

Andrej Svorenčík, “Doctoral Origins of Economics Faculty”

17:30-18:30 Poster Session

19:00- Social Event

Thursday, 13th September 2018

9:00-10:00 Session VIII (regular papers)

9:00-9:30

Ray Rivers & Tim Evans, “Does Modelling Try to Impose the Present on the Past?”

9:30-10:00

Roberto Lalli & Dirk Wintergrün, “A New Methodology for Modeling Socio-Epistemic Networks in Historical Research: The Case of General Relativity”

10:00-10:30 Coffee Break

10:30-12:00 Session IX (regular papers)

10:30-11:00

Diana Curca, “Resistance to Standardization: Denis Diderot’s Egonetwork”

11:00-11:30

Maximilian Kaiser, “Biographies and Historical Networks: Use Cases for Biographical Data in the Realm of Digital Art History

11:30-12:00

Mark Hill & Ville Vaara, “Intellectual and Material Networks in Eighteenth Century Britain: The ESTC as Historic Relic”

12:00-13:30 Lunch Break (lunch at own expense)

13:30-14:30 Keynote Lecture III

Antske Fokkens, TBA

14:30-15:30 Session X (regular papers)

14:30-15:00

Martina Hacke, “The Network of the Students of Basel at the University of Paris at the Beginning of the 16th Century”

15:00-15:30

Stefan Gigacz, “Joseph Cardijn and the ‘Jocist’ Network at the Second Vatican Council”

15:30-16:00 Coffee Break

16:00-17:20 Session XI (short papers)

16:00-16:20

Ksenia Stanicka-Brzezicka, “Network Analysis for a Knowledge and Object History of Silesian Modernism: Aesthetic Discourses, Technological Changes, Actors as Objects of Digital Art History”

16:20-16:40

Ekaterina Iakovleva, “The Conspiracy Networks in the Memoirs by Cardinal de Retz”

16:40-17:00

Johannes Gleixner, “Institutionalizing a Loose Network after 25 Years: The “Omladina” Club in Newly Founded Czechoslovakia in 1919”

17:00-17:20

Sarah Casano-Skaghammar, “Network and Familial Identity: When Network Analysis Sheds Light on a Family of French Royal Servants”

17:20- Closing Words